

The International Public Management Association for Human Resources is seeking nominations for the:

2010 WARNER W. STOCKBERGER ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

The Warner W. Stockberger Achievement Award was established to honor the memory of Dr. Warner W. Stockberger, a pioneer and leader in federal personnel administration. Stockberger was the first director of personnel for the U.S. Department of Agriculture and served as the first president of the Society for Personnel Administration, a predecessor organization of IPMA-HR. The Stockberger Achievement Award is presented annually.

The purpose of the award is to recognize and honor a person in public or private life who has made an outstanding contribution toward the improvement of human resource management at any level of government.

All nominations will be considered as final entries and are limited to five (5) pages. Supporting documents will not be considered. The entries must be sent to the address below. Materials submitted will not be returned. All nominations must be received by June 11, 2010. The award will be presented during the Association's International Training Conference in Seattle, Wash., October 2-6, 2010. Nominations should be submitted to:
