

The HR-Center

The HR Center provides unlimited access to information on human resources best practices. Covering over 60 topics ranging from background investigations, compensation and benefits to the FMLA, each topic is linked to sample policies, articles, RFPs and other important information that is submitted by IPMA-HR members and affiliates.

In addition to these resources, the HR Center provides the following:

Successful Practices – IPMA-HR members will have access to a database of successful agency practices on a variety of topics. Arranged in a searchable database the goal is to provide members with new approaches to HR.

Benchmarking & Surveys – Annual benchmarking surveys are free to members, recent topics include performance management, compensation & variable pay and health care cost containment. The association also conducts surveys in conjunction with our partners and the results are posted on the web site.

The association also conducts an annual survey on the hiring outlook and publishes the results online.

Discussion Groups – Members with a valid email address can participate in one of the most effective communication resources for public sector HR professionals. IPMANet allows members to network with the HR community, solve problems, research results, gather information and keep up with HR trends. Other discussion groups include HR Directors and training.

Advocacy – The government affairs department of IPMA-HR communicates with members of Congress on important legislation, files comments on the Fair Labor Standards Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act and other workplace regulation. The association joins amicus curiae briefs, letting courts know where public sector HR professionals stand on important judicial decisions.

Government Affairs – Information on recent laws and regulations and their impact on the HR community is available on the website. Links to relevant articles and resources are also provided.

For questions or to submit your information, contact The HR Center at gov@ipma-hr.org or visit our website at www.ipma-hr.org.

The Solution for Public HR Excellence
www.ipma-hr.org